

Urbanism Awards 2023 nomination: Solar Avenue, Leeds

“The first street delivered as part of a new neighbourhood created on previously ‘post industrial’ derelict land fronting the River Aire in the centre of Leeds. A part of Citu’s ‘Climate Innovation District’, the street brings together the developer’s vision to provide places, spaces at the cutting edge of sustainable technology by manufacturing all the homes and buildings on site, radically reducing the carbon footprint.

“Every aspect of this street and the wider vision that it represents successfully delivers high quality, innovative and sustainable development.”
