

Published in partnership with the CDI

JOURNAL OF THE National Institute for Career Education and Counselling

April 2022 | issue 48

Issue 48 marks a landmark in the evolution of this Journal. We have moved to an open access platform for electronic format. This means the Journal will be freely accessible to all via the internet. We hope that open access will bring the work of NICEC Fellows to a wider audience. We will continue to offer opportunities to career development practitioners, research students, and new voices in the field, to publish alongside established academics.

This is an open call issue, attracting submissions on a variety of topics. We have prioritised contributions that address the unavoidable issue of the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on careers, together with articles addressing other themes of contemporary change, and current concern.

Editor: Pete Robertson

CONTENTS

- Editorial: Overview of this issue – Pete Robertson

ARTICLES

- The impact of Covid-19 on career – Tristram Hooley
- 'How do I get hired?' Early career individuals' employment strategies during the COVID-19 pandemic – Rochelle Parks-Yancy and Delonia Cooley
- Career development during COVID: Increased migration aspirations of South African University students – A. J. Albien and T. A. Beppo
- Meeting the career development needs of single parents – Elsa R. Olaru and Emma Bolger
- Decolonising career guidance: Experiences of female BAME career guidance professionals' through the lens of intersectionality theory – Vaidehi Ranavaya
- Opportunities and risks in the use of AI in career development practice – Marianne Wilson, Pete Robertson, Peter Cruickshank, and Dimitra Gkatzia

SUBSCRIPTION AND MEMBERSHIP

The Journal of the National Institute for Career Education and Counselling (Print ISSN 2046-1348; Online ISSN 2059-4879) is published in partnership with the CDI twice a year and is available both in print and online.

Membership of NICEC is available (£75 pa or £50 pa for full-time students). Members receive the journal, free attendance at NICEC events and other benefits.

For information on journal subscription or membership, please contact: membership@nicec.org

www.nicec.org