

Published in partnership with the CDI

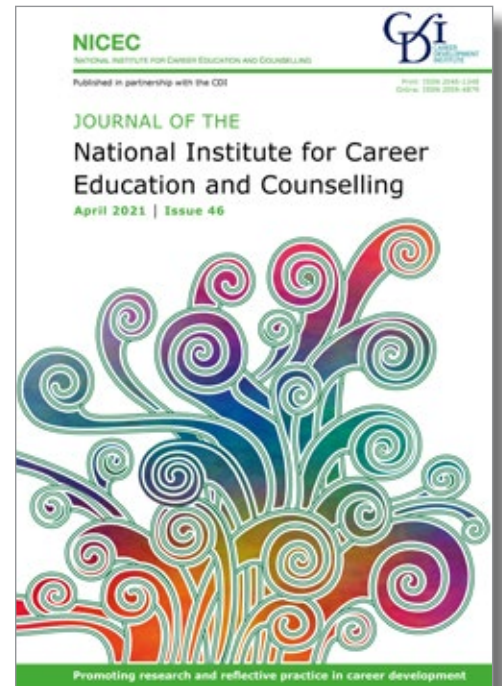

JOURNAL OF THE National Institute for Career Education and Counselling

April 2021 | issue 46

Twenty years have passed since David Peck's publication 'Careers Service; history, policy and practice in the UK.' This edition explores some of the many manifestations of change between 1999-2020 within careers: education, career theory, professionalism, digital technology, career coaching and guidance, older workers and the world of work.

We also pay tribute to the late Bill Gothard, former Director of the Career Studies Unit at the University of Reading, and seminal figure who pioneered the bridging of counselling and educational traditions in career development work.

Editors: Michelle Stewart and Lyn Barham

CONTENTS

- Editorial: Manifestations of change – Michelle Stewart

ARTICLES

- Access and partnership: How schools in England responded to changes in career guidance services in the first two decades of the 21st century – David Andrews
- The (faltering) renaissance of theory in higher education careers practice – David Winter and Julia Yates
- The development of career guidance roles and their professionalism: 1999-2020 – John Gough
- What has digital technology done for us and how can we evolve as a sector to make best use of what it has to offer? – Nicki Moore
- Career Development and Coaching: Straddling two worlds and bringing them together – Gill Frigerio and Stephanie Rix
- Career development and older people – Lyn Barham
- Supporting career development in organisations: Drivers, practices and challenges – Wendy Hirsh
- Obituary for Bill Gothard – Phil McCash and Phil Mignot

SUBSCRIPTION AND MEMBERSHIP

The Journal of the National Institute for Career Education and Counselling (Print ISSN 2046-1348; Online ISSN 2059-4879) is published in partnership with the CDI twice a year and is available both in print and online. Institutional subscription (online only) costs: £120 (plus VAT where applicable). Annual print subscription costs £30 UK, £35 Europe outside UK or £40 outside Europe, including postage. Individual online subscription costs £25 (plus VAT where applicable). Membership of NICEC is also available (£75 pa or £50 pa for full-time students). Members receive the journal, free attendance at NICEC events and other benefits. For information on journal subscription or membership, please contact: membership@nicec.org