

Hints and tips for registering and using the UKTMN Forum via Slack

To join the UKTMN Forum via Slack for the first time, visit:

https://join.slack.com/t/uktmnmemberforum/shared_invite/zt-13k8cckz6-Ex~Q1RmmxR3NiXcP8Tb5rA

You will be prompted to enter your email address to access the forum. The slack system will verify you using a code sent to the email address you enter. Be aware, this may land in your junk folder so be sure to check there if you don't seem to have received one.

Once you have been verified using the Slack code, you can enter the forum. At this stage, you probably haven't been prompted to set-up a password, but you will need one to log-in in future. To set up your password, follow the instructions given here:

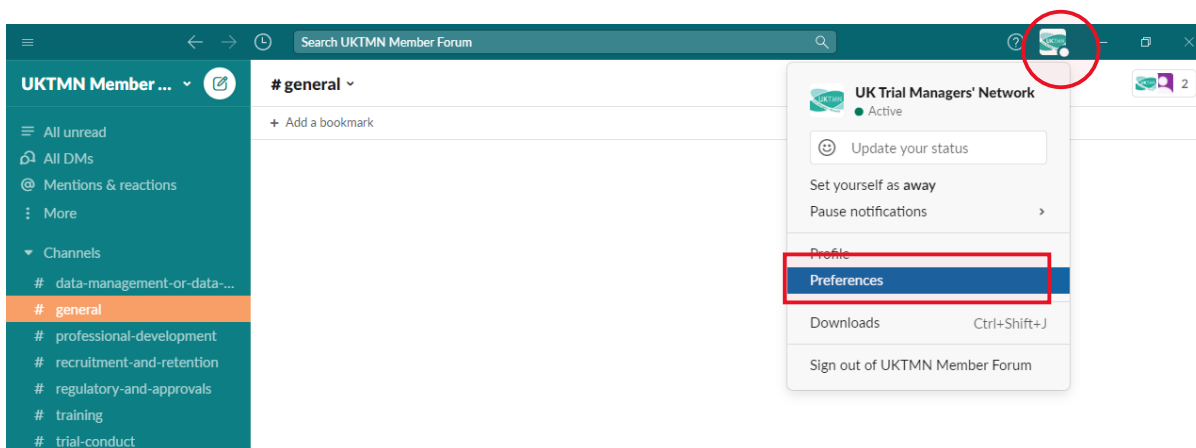

1. From your desktop, click on your profile picture in the top right.
2. Select Profile from the menu to open your profile.
3. Click More, then select Account settings.
4. Next to Password, click Expand.
5. Click Reset your password by email. Check your email for a link to add a password.

Now that you have visited the UKTMN Forum via Slack and registered an account, you just need to visit uktmnmemberforum.slack.com to access the forum whenever you want to use it.

Notifications:

When you access the UKTMN Forum for the first time, you are likely to see a pop-up prompt to enable notifications. We recommend you have notifications on for the forum to make sure you are informed if there are responses to your posts or activity.

To manage your notification settings, click on your profile in the top right corner, and select preferences.

Use this pop up window to edit your settings and set up your notification preferences.

We recommend turning your notifications on for all messages, but you can also set a time window for when notifications can reach you.

Just close this pop-up window when you've made your changes and you're all set!
